HAVE SOMETHING ON YOUR MIND?

Hearing loss can affect anyone at any age. Whether you were born D/deaf or lose your hearing later in life there are complex issues that need to be addressed about what it means to have a hearing loss and how it affects you, family, job ... your life.

Deaf Help Here provides special services to the D/deaf and hard of hearing community. We understand the core values of the Deaf Community and respect the uniqueness of each D/deaf and hard of hearing individual. We offer outpatient mental health services that are culturally sensitive and linguistically accessible allowing the client to select their communication preference.

With over 25 years of experience in the mental health field, June Walatkiewicz, LMSW, ACSW is a clinical social worker, licensed marriage & family therapist and hearing loss specialist that understands the complex interactions of working with the medical, psychological, social and cultural dynamics of hearing loss. As a child of deaf parents, she is fluent in American Sign Language and has a full knowledge of the Deaf culture. Previously, she was recognized as Social Worker of the Year by MI-NASW for her work with the Deaf and hard of hearing.
